SALE OF A STADIUM.

Those who decide what shall or shall not be done at University of Western Ontario, have dealt that hot bed of football a sad blow with their decree that beautiful Little Memorial Stadium is to be sold. Yesterday's Daily mistakenly donated the Stadium to "Western Canada"; probably none of the four Western Canadian universities would object but any graduate Mustang reading the story probably felt that this was piling sorrow on sorrow.

From this distance, we probably do not know the whole story behind the decision, but it really seems unfortunate that the stadium, generally considered the most beautiful belonging to a Canadian college, could not be merely rented or leased.

A QUESTION FOR COEDS.

Should any coeds happen to read this column and plow through this much of it, the following query will likely incur some withering common-room comment and perhaps some fair or even not so fair coeds will deign to reply and explain. Diligent reading of a certain popular American magazine has revealed to these appalled eyes that the fashionable coed now goes to a men's tailor, requests him to do his worst and he does it, with a vengeance. Unless the pictures lied, clothes for which many a woman writer has inveighed against man's habit of wearing have now been taken over by the very same women and look far more drab and sloppy than they ever did on men. A vague, uneasy feeling that we are leaving ourselves open to the crushing retort troubles us here but we plunge on to the main question.

What started all this was the fact that no longer can the manly engineer (there substitute artsmen, med or even theologic if necessary) stumble out from a tough lecture to drape himself over the steps of his building and cast an appreciative eye over the passing scenery. The scenery still passes and the engineer's eye is still appreciative until it drops to a point about 18 inches above the ground and here it stops horrified. The reason? Instead of the smooth sleek product of the silk-worm or ground wood pulp which formerly neatly covered a fascinatingly curved pair of legs there now appear two things of wool, thick, bulky and all concealing. All we ask is why?

SATURDAY SKIING?

We notice that the University of British Columbia engineers (those guys again) are petitioning for a change in timetable or military training arrangements on the ground that they have from thirteen to thirty-six hours lectures per week. Many McGill engineers have up to thirty-nine lectures a week but so far there has been no complaint that the six hours military training was too much extra. The business of parading from two to four on Saturdays however, has pretty well killed a lot of plans for skiing this winter, unless arrangements could possibly be made to put in the two hours at some other time. It would be unfortunate to see what must surely be McGill's most popular sport pretty well cut out for most of one faculty.

While on the subject of skiing, we heard recently that, although some meets will likely be called off, club championships are being planned as usual. Mount Tremblant will really cater to those who hate to climb up before shooting down; the tow is being extended to run right to the top. New country at Orford in the Eastern Townships is being opened up and is said to be fine ski territory.

Around the Globe

London reports the destruction of three German supply vessels and two escorts as well as the shelling of Dunkerque by British men of war. Berlin seems to be preparing a move in the Black Sea. Parts of submarines and airplanes have been sent to Rumania.

Ankara announces the Government's intention to go to war in the case of Greece being attacked by Germany.

Ottawa announces the appointment of General Sanson as commander of the Third Division.

In Quebec, Premier Godbout, in a Cabinet reshuffle brought Hector Parizer, a Montreal lawyer in to the ministry as Provincial Secretary.

CATEGORIES OF EXCEPTIONS TO TRAINING PLAN

Five Classes Exempted from Military Training

ILLNESS ONLY EXCUSE

University Authorities Unable to Grant Leave of Absence

The only male McGill students who are not required to undergo Military Training, under the present scheme are Mennonites, Doukabor, Members in good standing, of the Society of Friends (Quakers), Students who, after physical examination by the Department of Physical Education, Student Health Branch, who have been certified as unfit for Military Training and Students who are citizens of non-British countries. Any student who falls within one or other of these five classes should report his name to the Registrar at once in order that a record may be kept by the Military Committee of the University.

All male students enrolled in the McGill C.O.T.C. will be required to follow a program of training similar to that of last year. They are exempted from undergoing the prescribed Military Training. These students must fill out forms supplied by the C.O.T.C. Orderly Room, which are to be signed by the Officer Commanding McGill C.O.T.C. and submitted to the University Committee for Military Training so that exemptions may be granted.

N.P.A.M. and C.A.S.F. Students.

Also all students who belong to either the N.P.A.M. or the C.A.S.F. do not fall within the classes covered by the agreement entered into by the Universities and the Dominion Government, and so are not expected to undergo Military Training at the University. These men will hand in their names to Mr. T. H. Matthews, Secretary of the University Committee for Military Training, so that entries may be made in the University Military Training records.

Under the terms of the above-mentioned agreement the Military Training plan applies only to regular students, that is, those who spend the major part of their time at the University. Any students who are filling full-time positions at schools or business offices are not eligible to participate in the University Training plan, but instead, will be required to undergo normal training in the regular Government Militia Camps.

Exemptions for Graduate Students.

In special cases, each of which must be individually considered by the Military Committee of the University, Graduate Students above the age of twenty-eight years may be exempted from Military Training, if they are either, actively engaged in research work on projects which are approved by the Government and of direct importance to the national war effort, or else if they are married and have families.

Since the Military Training requirements are provided for by statute and Order-in-Council, the University authorities have no right to excuse any student from parade for reasons other than illness, attested to by the Medical Officer of the University. In all cases where a student is prevented from attending parades on the grounds of illness, he should notify the University Medical Officer, in order that the Medical Officer may visit the student. If the student is not considered (Continued on Page Four)

Final Tribute Paid Professor duRoure

Arrangements for the funeral of the late Professor duRoure were announced last night. The procession leaves the funeral home of Jos. C. Way and Bro. Mountain street, at 9 a.m. for the St. James Basilica, where a short service will be held beginning at 9.15 a.m. Following the service the procession will then make its way to the Cote des Neiges Cemetery for interment.

Professor duRoure was widely known as a lecturer and a prominent figure in French educational circles, of Canada, who has long been associated with McGill. He joined the staff in 1912, served with the French army during the World War, but returned to the University in 1919. A few years later, he was appointed head of the department of French language and literature at McGill, which position he held until his death on Tuesday.

DAILY MEETING SET FOR FRIDAY EVENING

Every member of the staff of the Daily will have an assignment Friday night as the first meeting of the season takes place in the Union Grill Room at 8 o'clock.

The purpose of this meeting is to make all new members of the staff, and those who intend to join, acquainted with the policy and procedure of the paper, and it is expected that all those whose interests are touched will attend. Several of the editors will deliver short addresses on topics of interest in this connection, while the older members of the staff will be on hand to help clear up other points which may be brought up.

This party will also serve to introduce the members of the staff to each other, and as an inducement to this, an informal dance will follow, and refreshments will be served.

Sports Day

The University Sports will be held on Friday, 18th of October. The regular lectures and parades in all Faculties and Schools will be cancelled on that day. The evening Accountancy and Extension Lectures will be given as usual.

T. H. MATTHEWS, Registrar.

'WAY OF LIFE' BOOKS GIVEN MED STUDENTS

Principal James Speaks at Ceremony

SECOND YEAR STUDENTS

Sir William Osler's Books Presented Annually

Yesterday marked the annual event of presentation of books to the second year Med students in remembrance of Sir William Osler, one of McGill's most famous graduates in medicine and also a great professor on the staff, and Dr. William Grant Stewart, another graduate in medicine who also did much credit to his profession. Dean of the Faculty, Dr. Simpson, was in the chair and others on the platform were Principal and Vice-Chancellor Dr. F. Cyril James, Associate Dean Dr. J. C. Meakins, Dr. H. B. Cushing, Mrs. Stewart and a few other noted physicians of Montreal. The main address was delivered by Dr. Cushing and the book that was presented was Dr. Osler's "Way of Life."

Dr. Simpson in his opening remarks and introduction of the speaker recalled the annual occurrence of such an event and told the 2nd year class that Dr. Stewart, who graduated in 1888 as Master of Surgery, "wished to leave some message to the students that he loved so well and it was characteristic of him that his message should be in the form that it did. Osler's "Way of Life" was his way; facing each day's duty as it came giving to it the best he had to give." He went on to say that in this book one could read between the lines and he trusted that each student there assembled would find a high purpose which gave meaning to the days and united a life that moved onward to a worthy end. He concluded by saying, "to few is given the ability to attain fame as teachers and consultants. To each and everyone of us, however, there is possible—a life of service in his own special field." In 1927 the first presentation was made of the books by Dr. Stewart himself but since his death a year later Mrs. Stewart has donated the money for the books and usually some member of the family is present at the ceremony.

In the main address Dr. Cushing, Professor of Paediatrics, drew a parallel between the lives of Sir William Osler and Dr. William Stewart telling that each was born in a manse in Ontario and both were very hard workers. He went on to say that each was a great reader and laid emphasis on the fact that it was necessary to be a hard reader through life to make an outstanding success in the field of medicine. He also contrasted their lives telling the assembled students that Sir William Osler was a great teacher and writer while Dr. Stewart was an excellent family doctor but both led to outstanding successes.

Dean J. C. Simpson then presented a copy of Osler's "Way of Life" to the Principal who thanked him and gave a short address commending the lives of Dr. Osler and Dr. Stewart with Sir James MacKenzie. A book was also given to Dr. Cushing who in turn presented a copy to each member of the second year class. Each edition was especially bound with a name plate in the front with the student's name appropriately inscribed.

Newman Club Plans to Hear Prof. Laviolette

The regular monthly meeting of the Newman Club is to be held next Sunday morning at 9.45 in the Ladies' Chapel of St. Patrick's Church. The meeting is to be addressed by Professor Laviolette of the department of Sociology. While the subject of Professor Laviolette's talk has not yet been decided upon, the club executive feels that an interesting topic is assured.

Tickets will be sold at this meeting for admission to the informal dance to be held at the Union on Thursday, October 24th. Arrangements for this dance are now being made by the executive committee which is attempting to secure the

LECTURES CANCELLED FRIDAY FOR SPORTS

All lectures and parades in connection with the University are being cancelled throughout the day tomorrow, to permit the students to attend the 68th Annual Sports Day celebration at Molson Stadium. It is expected a large number will participate. The various events are of special interest in view of the fact that many members of the track and field squads each year are selected from the boys taking part on this occasion.

The Extension courses will be given as usual in the evening. A special sports edition of the McGill Daily will be published and will be found in the usual place tomorrow.

BOOK EXCHANGE TO PAY TODAY

Large Sum of Money to Be Paid to Students

List of Those to Receive Funds Appears on Page 4

The McGill Book Exchange is open today and Monday to pay off the students and wind up its business for the first term. The committee says that this year has been an average one and it is satisfied with the returns. About $1,200 is to be paid back to the students in return for books sold.

Those who used the Exchange this year are indebted, for service and management to: R. James; Manager, R. Johnson; Assistant Manager, and the assistants J. Wright, G. Alexander, D. Whiting, B. Cripps, A. McLeod.

The committee wishes it to be brought to the attention of all the students concerned, that before credit can be given to them for books sold, their slips must be presented to the Exchange. This will be possible only today and Monday between 8.45 a.m. and 3.00 p.m. The McGill Book Exchange will again open for business after Christmas for the second term.

Literature Society Holds Meeting Today

By M. C.

The Literature Society has now put in a call to all would-be readers, writers or critics to attend a meeting to be held today at 5 P.M. in the Union Grill. This Society which was once a shining light on the campus, is now a mere wisp of the-wisp, and it is to be hoped that with the interest of new members it will once again take its place among the leading clubs of McGill.

There are no entrance qualifications except for an interest in literature, and an ability to read. The club now gives all interested in literature a chance to enjoy the society of people of other years, who have the same interests as themselves.

Newcomers now have a chance to express their own opinions, and not swallow the opinions of others. Plans for the coming season will probably be discussed at the meeting, which takes place today after lectures.

Band Practice

There will be a band practice in the Ballroom of the McGill Union at 7.15 Thursday night. Please bring your instruments.

services of Archie Etienne and his orchestra. Further details concerning the dance will appear in Monday's edition of the Daily.

WAR SERVICE PROGRAM FOR WOMEN

All women students of McGill University who at present hold the first aid certificate of the St. John Ambulance Association are asked to register at the office of the secretary of the Royal Victoria College not later than Saturday, October 19th.

FRESHMEN DINE AND DANCE WED

Tickets Go on Sale Today

Music by Blake Sewell's Orchestra

Preparations are proceeding for this year's Freshman-Freshette Dinner and Dance which is to be held in the McGill Union on Wednesday of next week. The freshettes will assemble for dinner in the grill while at 6.15 the frosh will start theirs in the cafeteria. Tickets, which go on sale today, may be purchased at the Tuck Shop and at Bill Gentleman's office as well as from members of the Freshman Reception Committee and from officers of the Women's Union and the Arts Undergraduate Society. The price will be 35 cents.

As Bob Spencer, president of the Arts Undergraduate Society, points out, "The price of the tickets obviously does not begin to cover the costs of the evening. Much of the expense," he says, "is being borne by various campus organizations in the hope that all freshmen and freshettes may be present at this final activity staged by the Freshman Reception Committee. Excellent music will be provided for the dance by Blake Sewell's orchestra and all may come expecting a real good time."

SCM OPEN HOUSE TO MEET SUNDAY

Mr. Brooks, Wide-Traveller Authority to Address Meeting

"The first Christian Youth Movement" will be the topic of the address to be given by Murray Brooks at the Student Chapel Service of the SCM on Sunday evening at 7.30 p.m. in Divinity Hall.

Mr. Brooks, who is a McGill graduate, has had a varied experience, both here and abroad, in the work of young people. He will be remembered here as Secretary of the McGill branch of the SCM from 1934-38. He then left to work with the Y.M.C.A. in Rangoon, Burma, returning this year to resume duties in Montreal.

Open House will be held at Strathcona Hall after the service. An informal evening of music and games has been planned, to which all new students, as well as old, are invited. Here Mr. Brooks' keen interest in music as well as his pertinent knowledge on the Burma situation is expected to add interest to the program. Refreshments will be served.

Newfoundland Club Holds Initial Meeting

Last night the Newfoundland Club of McGill held its first meeting of the year. A welcome was first extended to the new members. Then each member introduced himself to the gathering.

The Newfoundland Club of McGill has been functioning since 1919. Its aims are to bring together all Newfoundland students at McGill or colleges associated with McGill and also the Newfoundland nurses in hospitals associated with McGill. The club wishes to encourage good fellowship amongst them and to promote the interest of McGill in Newfoundland.

At this first meeting the annual report was presented and plans were drawn up for the coming year. Mr. Stevens was elected Treasurer. The President W. C. Brown, Vice-President Miss M. Wood and Secretary E. R. S. Wyatt had been elected last spring for

Plumber Nominations To Terminate Today

Nominations for the Faculty of Engineering's representatives for the coming session must be handed in to Fred Barton, the janitor in the Engineering Building, some time to-day. Voting will subsequently take place on Monday the 21st.

In the nominations the positions of Secretary and Treasurer, which need at least twenty-five signatures on the nomination forms, can only be filled by Third Year students, but the whole Faculty has the right to vote, and not only Third Year students, as stated in error in yesterday's Daily. The date has been purposely retarded in order to give the Freshmen a chance to get to know each other better, and so cast their ballots.

ENROLMENT IS STILL NORMAL

War Fails to Make Large Difference in Numbers

3,102 Students to Follow University Courses This Year

The enrolment at McGill for the present session shows that registration is remarkably well maintained in spite of the conditions created by the war. Following the meeting of the Senate yesterday it was revealed that the total registration was 3,102 students against 3,424 in 1939-40.

A decline of 112 was noted in the number proceeding to degrees, accounted for mainly by a drop of 81 in the Faculty of Medicine. This is due to the fact that this year for the first time in the history of the university, there are only four classes instead of five under the new four year course. Other slight decreases in the Faculty of Arts and Science and Graduate studies made up the total drop of 112.

In the ranks of those pursuing courses of study leading to diplomas, a decrease of 50 students in the School for Teachers at Macdonald College was noted. There are no registrations as yet in the Diploma Courses in Agriculture, which last year showed a total of 45 students.

As far as Partial Courses are concerned, the greatest decline is in the partial students in the Faculty of Arts and Science which are reduced from 142 last year to 91 this year. The Faculty of Music also shows a decline of 30 students.

MACCABEAN CIRCLE TO MEET SUNDAY

Dr. Viner to Address Gathering in Strathcona Hall

The Maccabean Circle will hold its opening meeting this Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Strathcona Hall. Dr. Norman Viner, Honorary President of the Society will address the gathering, and past presidents and alumni will greet all who attend. The Maccabean Circle is a University Club, one of its principal aims is to foster friendship. "All Jewish students—freshmen, freshettes, co-eds, upperclassmen are welcome to attend," announced the president of the society, Mr. Joseph Shuchat.

Freshies will meet upperclassmen in an informal atmosphere. At the opening meeting on Sunday, the Maccabean Circle will outline the general program to be followed for the ensuing season. The president hopes that there will be a large turnout. At five o'clock the meeting will adjourn in order to eat at the Pit, where refreshments will be served.

In Memoriam

At a meeting of the Senate of McGill University held yesterday afternoon, the following resolutions were passed:

DR. J. A. NICHOLSON
"The Senate of McGill University records with sincere regret the death on the eighth of October of Dr. John Alexander Nicholson, Registrar of the University from 1902 to 1930.

"As a teacher, school principal, and finally an administrative officer, Dr. Nicholson made education his life. A high conception of his obligations made that life a busy one; sympathy and kindness and a mature wisdom enhanced its value.

"During Dr. Nicholson's twenty-eight years in the office of Registrar, the University grew greatly in stature and in prestige. His contribution to this growth and the worth of his faithful labours for his Alma Mater were recognized when she conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

"In these halls Dr. Nicholson will long be remembered with affection as one of the Grand Old Guard who did so much to make the McGill University that we know."

PROF. R. DUROURE

"McGill University deeply mourns the loss of Professor Rene du Roure for twenty-eight years a member of the teaching staff and for the past seventeen years the Chairman of the Department of French Language and Literature.

"Professor du Roure was to all who knew him the embodiment of Parisian culture, charm, wit, and courtesy. His friends were legion, his enemies none. His colleagues and his pupils in the Faculty of Arts and Science and in the French Summer School will remember with warm affection his gracious manners, his kindness of heart, his generosity of spirit, his gallie eloquence, and above all his pride in France, and they will wish to pay a tribute to a gallant Frenchman who fought to the end against his own ill-health and his country's misfortunes. At his passing we salute a brave soldier, a charming man."

Changing Courses

Elsewhere in this issue we publish a notice which should be drawn to the attention of all students in the Faculty of Arts and Science. If any students in that Faculty wish to make any changes in their courses for this session, they must do so before Friday, October 18th. Students will not be admitted to the examinations in courses in which they are not properly registered and consequently failure to register correctly at this time will result in failure to receive credit for such courses.

Friday is Sports Day and as such will be a holiday insofar as lectures are concerned. You may not have an opportunity

ON THE AIR

The week-end saw good music return to the air.

On Saturday the NBC Symphony Orchestra was led by Hans Wilhelm Steinberg through a program of Romantic music, which, except for the Wagner, was uninteresting and at times boring. But the orchestra played well.

The Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra of New York was superb in an exciting performance of Sibelius' Second Symphony. Barbirolli has matured considerably as a conductor and a musician. Sunday's concert showed that he now has the orchestra completely under his control; and that he understands the values of at least Elgar's Enigma Variations and the Sibelius Second Symphony. He showed a restraint and a working-out of climaxes that was truly musicianly.

Next week-end, the NBC will play Mozart's Symphony No. 39 in E flat; the Incidental Music to a Midsummer Night's Dream by Mendelssohn; and Stravinsky's Firebird Suite. The Philharmonic will play Weber's Euryanthe Overture, Bizet's Symphony in C major (written when he was 17, but not discovered till 1855), and Beethoven's Seventh Symphony.

The cause of music is well cared for, during week-ends at any rate.

All Citizens?

On Wednesday, Oct. 16th (10.30 E.D.S.T.) the CBC, in co-operation with the Canadian Association for Adult Education and the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, inaugurates a series of six fortnightly broadcasts on Democracy and Citizenship: "Citizens All." The titles are: "How did we get that way?" "How the wheels go round"; "Freedom—for whom? to do what?"; "Economic security—is it possible?"; "Can we make good?"; "Why plan for the future?"

The CBC announces proudly that this series is designed for the average man and woman, for the farmer, the worker, the clerk, the shopkeeper, the student, the housewife. Throughout Canada their questions, their hopes and doubts about Democracy will be heard in to the CBC. Then representatives of the workers and farmers will present these questions to a panel of distinguished Canadians: parliamentarians, authors, political scientists, industrial leaders.

Industrial leaders, yes; labour leaders, no. No doubt "Citizens All" will be a clean, straightforward program, endeavoring to answer questions unreservedly and without prejudice.

Audience Response

Hundreds of listeners to "Helen Hayes Theatre" telephoned to Detroit station, WJR, Sunday night (October 6) asking the solution to the mystery thriller, "Love From A Stranger," starring Miss Hayes, after WJR had been cut off the air for two minutes at the climax of the play. The program, which was on the air from 8 to 8.30 p.m. EST, was interrupted on WJR when that station's transmitter was struck by lightning at 8.26 p.m. Emergency steps were taken and the station was back on the air at 8.28 p.m., but meantime "Love From A Stranger" had reached its dramatic conclusion. WJR wired headquarters of the Columbia Network in New York and got a resume of the closing minutes of the play which was included in the 11 p.m. news broadcast of the Detroit station.

The plot of the play is interesting. Miss Hayes as the heroine had won a large sum of money on a sweepstake ticket, quarreled with her lover and met another man, who quickly wooed and won her. She was blissfully happy until her discovery that her husband was really a homicidal maniac, who had "done away with" three other wives.

The play reaches its pitch in the final scene when she realizes she is about to become his fourth victim. In desperation, she tries to divert him, by telling him she is a murderer, but he does not believe her. Then she tells him she has poisoned the coffee he has just been drinking. The coffee isn't poisoned, but her story is so convincing that he dies of a heart attack just as her old sweetheart breaks through the door to rescue her.

Greet stuff!

Plays like this have the important but ignominious function of showing the superiority of Arch Oboler's work. And yet hundreds of listeners were engrossed enough to telephone for the solution.

Thanks, Lanny

Canada will be the more or less proud recipient of a significant honour on Thursday, October 17th. Lanny Ross's program, "Memory Lane," (CKAC at 8.15) will have as guest Arlene Jackson, lyric contralto from Toronto. The broadcast will take the form of a salute to this country. Mr. Ross and Miss Jackson will sing, between them, "Alouette," "By the River St. Marie," "O Canada," and—hang on to your seats—"I'll Never Smile Again."

And while we are considering intelligent choice of songs, we cannot pass over the program of the Grenadier Guard Band, played last night over CBF. The selection included "March Fanfare" by Henric; Wallace's "Montana Overture"; Desormes' "Danse Napolitaine"; and "Pantomime" of Mme. Morin-Labrecque. Where in the world they got the stuff, no one knows.

The Grenadier Guards Band is the best military band in the country. It is almost as good as the U.S. Army, Navy or Marine Bands. Why can't it play something worth listening to?

to make any required changes in your courses tomorrow. Remember that a minimum number of credits are required before you can join the ranks of those who hold B.A. and B.Sc. degrees. Play safe—change your courses today.

Odds and Ends

Charles Paul, Columbia network organist, wrote a special score for "Columbia's Workshop's" recent production of "The Pussy Cat and the Expert Plumber Who Was a Man." He has dedicated it to director Nila Mack's Persian, Mr. Pinney.

Orchestra leader Al Goodman should soon develop his sense of humour. If he doesn't, it won't be because of his environment. Al makes music for one top-notch comedian and one comedian: Fred Allen and Al Jolson.

One of Harry von Zell's fondest dreams may soon come true. The announcer for "Helen Hayes Theatre" has been promised a part in one of the plays to be produced on the program.

The Columbia Broadcasting System has completed arrangements to broadcast the University of Pennsylvania's home football games play-by-play in Spanish to South America. Yet another phase of the Pan-American Movement.

MUSIC NOTES

The first concert in the series presented by the Concerts Symphoniques de Montreal will take place next Tuesday, October 22, at Plateau Hall. The occasion will bring together two outstanding personalities in the world of contemporary music.

Desire Defaux, the eminent Belgian conductor with whom Montreal became acquainted at the last symphony concert on the mountain, will lead the orchestra. M. Defaux who made a sensational American debut with Toscanini's NBC Symphony Orchestra last year, has been re-engaged with the same orchestra and has also been chosen by Sergei Koussevitzky to conduct a series of concerts with the world famous Boston Symphony Orchestra, after his four Montreal appearances.

Mischa Elman will be the soloist. One of the great violinists of our time Elman started his career, as a boy-prodigy some twenty-five years ago, and since then his name has become, to music lovers in the five continents, a synonym of unparalleled richness of tone.

The feature works on the program are the Tchaikovsky Concerto for violin and orchestra in D Minor and Brahms' Third Symphony.

RE POSTPONEMENT OF ECONOMICS 5

As Donald Duck and other comics Symbolize our economics, While philosophy is on a bloody spree, A lecture now on Money Would be tops as something funny— At least that's how it registers with me. It's too bad Professor Day Was torpedoed on his way, Trust the shock will not eradicate his knowledge. If there's money in the till I will lecture at McGill— And I wouldn't be the only fool in college. —J. H. R.

If the day ever comes when I stop believing in people, I hope I still have enough mental balance left to start wearing a black band on my sleeve as a memorial to a lost faith. It must be a tragedy to discover suddenly that you can't trust anybody, not even your friends, your employers, or strangers who pass in the night. And I'm afraid I'd find it doubly tragic because I care far less for causes, the masses and the good of the world than for individuals.

I like people. Most of them are superior, with only a few eligible for Joan Bennett's "Heil, heil" designation. The best have faults, of course, but then some of the finest and most generous people I've ever known have been habitués of beer joints, honky-tonks or double-feature movie houses.

It's hard to find yourself forced to fight for a principle when you don't believe in principles; harder still to discover that you must seriously defend a cause which is quite certain to be entirely forgotten within months.

I hate wrangling and futile, useless arguing. I don't like to be party of the second part in a table-pounding argument when I much prefer to stand in the window and find faces in the clouds that go by.

Essentially a non-actionist, still I can come out of the clouds long enough to realize that the Oklahoma Daily was here a long time before I wandered in and must go on for a long time after I'm on my way. I don't think anyone entertains any thoughts to the contrary.

I have a lot to learn, I know. Most of us do, I suppose. But I hope that the principle of distrust isn't one of the things I must learn. If it is, I'm going to have to learn it the hard way.

Yoohoodities
by Yehudy

Hello, folks! Fine day, if it stops pouring, isn't it?

Oh, excuse me! Where are my manners? I didn't introduce myself. Meet me, gals. My name's Yehudy. Yehudy, of Yehudy fame. Who's Yehudy? Don't get personal. Know something? I have some mighty peculiar habits. I never mind my own business. You know what I did? Let me tell you the whole story. . . . Pass the bottle.

To pass the idle hours of my lectures, I took to deciphering some of the masterpieces McGill students print, etch, carve or otherwise imprint on their desks. And to pass the idle hours of my study periods, I collected these masterpieces of art and literature in the form of an anthology.

The contents of my anthology are of all sorts and varieties. Naturally. All sorts and varieties of students, from the forlorn Freshman, through the sage Sophomore, the industrious Junior, the veteran Senior, and the retired Graduate, to the eternal Owl, have contributed to it.

First of all, there is what I call the "Daily-filler" variety:

"She was a good girl. As good girls go. And as good girls go. She went."

MORE: (Not for Freshettes.)

Or: "Red lips parted, Teeth so white, Waist encircled With my right. . . ."

Unfortunately, the rest of this promising verse was not legible. I could only make out the last word which would indicate that an accident occurred to interrupt the aforementioned highly Platonic proceedings. That word was: "Sneezed."

In this category belongs the variation on the theme: "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness." Some precocious Engineer (no doubt) changed the meaning slightly. In thick, heavy, block letters, the new version reads: "Wife, Liberty, and the pursuit of a Blonde."

Now don't anyone spoil my fun by saying that these have appeared before in the Daily. It isn't the first or last time.

Then there's the political type of inscription. For example: "Down with Wilkie!" And "Fascism neither believes in or desires the utility of perpetual peace—Mussolini!" The person who wrote this next one has fathomed the ultimate cause of the present war: "Swing Fans, fight Fascism for Fascism fights Swing."

The third variety is the "Vain-glorious" inscription. I can't begin to list the names carved on desks. One of the most popular seems to be the trade mark MULLIGAN. A different view of the same idea is: "Butch Mulligan." A more elaborate form of this type is: "Har! Har! Kitty Car." Here's one which apparently is comment, rather than vainglorious: "Phyllis Mott—Oh Boy!" But by far the best in this lot is straight-forward, unadulterated patting-one's self-on-the-back: "Good old me!" writes a modest soul.

A very dominant type of marking is the "Disillusioned Student" one, for example: Someone, most likely in an English 4 lecture, expressed his opinion very frankly: "Phoney on literature!" Follows a recorded bit of crisp, but earnest conversation, whose location hints of History 2: "Are you getting bored?" And, just beneath that: "Yes." (Yehudy's note: I passed History 2.) And one which could have been written in almost any lecture, with the odds in favour of Philosophy, indicates the mood of the student: "Asleep in the seat."

Special mention should be made of a caricature which looks like a cross between Boogie-Woogie and Hecate, with a small touch of Adolf Hitler. The individual depicted could have been the Fat Lady of the circus, only it has a mustache. And at the invisible feet of this hermaphrodite amphibian is the remark: "Dirty Capitalist." Fifth columnism at work.

I shouldn't omit the "Dreamy Freshman" species of inscriptions, such as: "Aren't the stars beautiful tonight?" Hm! Some frustrated Freshette asks herself a question and obliges by answering: "Are you happy? I doubt it!" This other one was beyond doubt, written by a neophyte either in love or else slapping: "Happiness, happiness, happiness, happiness!"

To make a long story short, here are some peachy ones which couldn't be classified: Says one woman who really seems to know something about the subject: "I am a female twerp." Such wisdom could hardly have been expected of a McGill co-ed.

Then there is a case which is essentially puzzling I give you the following two quotations for what they are worth: "Nannie I. Barclay. Oh, ma! If I were only allowed to swear it here, you would have an eyeful. Aig, exam, September 11, 1940."

"My! My! Me wants to die Or else I'll cry And hurt my eye. All this is awful bad. Ah, yes, I need another. Gad! Love to you all at McGill. —NANIE."

(? — Yehudy.)

A Theology student who, apparently, gave too much attention to his studies at the expense of other campus activities, has printed: "May the Lord always love us—amen." Or have I got this man wrong?

My Psych. Prof. has described such markings on desks as "random movements of students." The one immediately following leaves me wondering as to how "random" their nature is: "No! No! No! You can't neck here!"

Before I close, I ought to pay tribute to a contribution from a Senior: "Don't need no dough—Oh yeah!" Both the grammar and the situation depict the identity of the author.

One oft-appearing inscription bothers me in particular. I came across it so many times during the course of my research that it got on my nerves—or was it my conscience? Laconic, perhaps significant, it reads: "Nuts!"

Random, eh?

If in doubt, just ask for Yehudy.

British Columbia Communiques
by C.U.P.

Vancouver, B.C. — The Mamooks, campus pep organization and official cheer leaders at what games UBC will play this year, is the first all male club on the UBC campus to enlist the support of co-eds. Finding that military training has practically curtailed their work, the pepsters are calling for blondes, brunettes, and red-heads to lead the cheers and inspire male students. Peroxide will be supplied to any women or brunettes as blondes are desired first.

This is another example of the way in which women have been worming their way into all masculine activities. Harry Warner, president of the Mamooks, stated that the enthusiasm of the students and especially the Science men ought to be definitely brightened up by the co-eds.

"All the colleges in the States have blondes," said Harry. "It should work here."

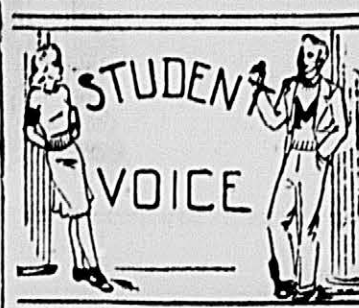

Pending ratification by the Board of Governors, a new course leading to a double degree in Commerce and Agriculture will be given at the University of British Columbia. Dean Clement of the Faculty of Agriculture announced recently. According to present plans the degree requires the regular four year Agriculture course plus an additional year (15 units) in Commerce. Consistently higher enrollments in the Faculty of Agriculture the past few years has made the new course feasible, Dean Clement stated. At present the University of British Columbia is the only Canadian University offering the course.

Parliamentary Forum officials today stated that the University of British Columbia will definitely field a series of teams in the McGoun debates to be held in January. Their program, necessarily curtailed by the military training, will consist of

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

Applications Now Being Requested

The Civil Service Commission of Canada announces an open competitive examination for a limited number of appointments as Clerk, Grade 4 (Male), in the Civil Service of Canada. The attention of prospective candidates, who would intend making public service their life work, is drawn to the fact that, while all graduates with the required academic standing are eligible to enter, the greatest demand has been for graduates in Commerce, Economics and allied courses.

In this competition, applications will be received from candidates now entering the final year of their undergraduate course, or from graduates who must be British subjects with at least five years residence in Canada. It is necessary that applicants be less than twenty-seven years of age on the day of the written examination, to be held early in November. Candidates will not be placed on the eligible list until the results of their degree examinations have been transmitted to the Commission.

Notices giving complete information have been posted on all notice boards throughout the University.

Track and Field Meet to Be Held Friday

Discus, Shotput, Hurdles, Leading Off Programme

All Post Entries Will Be Accepted at Starting Line

Tomorrow at 2.15 the Inter-Company Track Meet will get under way at Molson Stadium and will usher in the 1940-41 season. It is hoped and expected that a large turn-out will be on hand to cheer on their favorite company athletes. All lectures having been cancelled, a Golf Tournament and Softball games will round out Sports Day.

Discuss throwing, shot put and hurdles will start the events with C. W. L. Horn as starter. However, the entries for the hurdles are very low as are those from B. D. and F. Companies. Coach Van Wagner has announced that post entries will be accepted at the commencement of each event, but it would be appreciated if they would enter by Friday in the locker-room of the gymnasium. Lud Horne can give any information today, about entries, from 5.20 on.

Equipment Supplied.
Equal chances in the final results are given to all, for each participant gains two points for his Company, and it is the collective entry, with a good average, which will be the deciding factor. For those who have not their own equipment this can be obtained from 2-6 today. Everyone is called out for the final practice, which will be held this afternoon.

This meet is under the patronage of Principal Dr. F. Cyril James, who has agreed to be Honorary Referee. Other referees are Col. J. M. Morris, Dr. J. C. Simpson, and Dr. F. J. Tees, with Dr. A. S. Lamb and F. M. Van Wagner as Directors. Hay Finlay and Em. Orlick will act as Clerks of the Course.

As Judges the following will officiate: Judges of Track, Major J. C. Kemp (Chief), Capt. H. S. L. Brown, J. W. Davies, Major A. T. Field, Major J. A. de Lalande, H. R. Little, J. L. O'Brien, Capt. C. R. Payan.

Judges of Jumps: E. A. Cushing (Chief), Prof. G. J. Dodd, Prof. R. DeL. French, Lieut. E. L. Ginn. Judges of Weights: Lt-Col. N. B. MacLean (Chief), 2nd Lieut. G. L. Drysdale, Prof. A. J. Kelly, Prof. H. E. Reilly, Lieut. M. A. Ross, Prof. F. M. Wood.

Dean E. Brown will be in charge of the Timekeeping, with Prof. C. H. Carruthers, Lieut. G. A. McVey, C. A. Morrison, assisting. G. H. Fletcher will be Chief Scorer, Lieut. R. M. Calder, 2nd Lieut. W. A. Clark, 2nd Lieut. C. F. Carsley, G. C. McDonald, C. Frankton, T. H. Matthews as assistants.

As Inspectors J. C. G. Young, J. J. Stewart, R. G. Townsend, N. F. Retalack, and D. Armstrong are going to officiate.

C. W. L. Horn will be the Starter, Dr. F. G. Pedley as Field Doctor will take care of the sick and Announcer L. Forth will keep the meeting going.

The track and field managers R. H. Stevenson and A. S. LeMesurier are putting all their efforts into making this first Inter-Company competition a success and only by the participation and attendance of all can this be realized. This fact is drawn to the attention of all students for you are the University.

Following is a list of the events taking place on Friday:

Archerettes to Compete Today

Intercollegiate Meet Held at 5 p.m. Results Compared by Wire

The McGill end of the Intercollegiate Telegraphic tournament will take place on the Upper Campus this afternoon from three to five. The Upper Campus is the field situated behind Molson's Stadium. The scores from McGill will be telegraphed to the other Universities and when the wires cool down a new Intercollegiate Archery Team should be in existence.

Archery to many is no more nor less than a simple game of taking a bow and shooting an arrow. But in the days gone by it was no game. The long bow, which is used today, proved its supremacy over the cross bow at the Battle of Crecy, and its position as a first class weapon held sway up until the time that some chap spoiled all the fun by inventing gun-powder. From then on it got classified as a sport.

The bow benders taking part are as follows: Mary-Ellen Rossiter, Irene Smith, Mary Morris, Marg. Gaunt, Bonnie Amory, Freda Wales, Pauline Wadsworth, and Gladys Bean. Would all those mentioned above please meet in the lower Gymn of the R.V.C. at 2.45 p.m.

Sports Notices

GLIDING CLUB

The first general meeting of the year will be held in the ballroom of the McGill Union on Thursday evening of this week at 8 p.m. The plans for the coming season will be announced and the sport itself explained to newcomers. Motion pictures will be shown of the Club's activities, of the National Soaring Competitions at Elmira, New York, and of gliding in other countries. There will be no admission charge.

INTER-COMPANY FOOTBALL

Will the following members of "B" Company please turn out on Friday at 9.30 a.m. on the Upper Field behind Molson's Stadium for the Inter-Company Softball Tournament: Dodds, Landry, Kilpatrick, Schuller, McCallum, Patrick, Turcot, McGuire, Powles, Zalkind, Feinstein, Levitt, McKellar, Miller, Carruthers, McDougall, Hagen.

SQUASH LADDER

The Squash ladder tournament is now in progress and names of the forty-four men entered have been drawn and placed on the ladder which is located in the passage way outside of the courts. Names, Faculties and telephone numbers are on the board, and players are urged to arrange games with either of the two men immediately above them on the ladder.

"A" COMPANY

Captain Brown wishes all men in Company "A" to attend a special sports meeting called for 1.15 p.m. on the campus beside the Redpath Library. The purpose of the meeting is to select entrants from the company for the Sports Day. Attention is drawn to the fact that not only company representatives are asked to attend, but every member of the company.

BADMINTON

All men students are invited to play in an informal evening of badminton at the Gymnasium tonight. Until further notice space will be available for badminton on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7.00 p.m. to 9.30 p.m. Further plans for the Club concerning competition and mixed badminton will be discussed after the evening's play. It is probable that there will be at least one evening of mixed badminton each week in the near future. Players are warned that until other arrangements are made they will be individually responsible for their own equipment.

This includes birds. However all equipment, including birds, is on sale at the locker room to students at slightly more than cost prices. All those interested in badminton are strongly urged to turn out, because the amount of floor space allotted to them in the future will depend on the attendance for the first few evenings.

SOCCER

A challenge has just been received from the West Indian Students at McGill to play any other group in Soccer. Any interested in playing this splendid game are requested to leave their names with Hay Finlay at the Athletics Office. What about McGill's Championship team of last year?

SOFTBALL

All is in readiness for the big Inter-Company Softball Tournament of the year which will commence tomorrow morning at 9.00 a.m. Three Companies and the Independents have handed in complete line-ups already. Three Companies have handed in only partial line-ups and it is hoped that they will have the remainder of the names in tonight by 6.00 p.m.

Platoon and Company Sports representatives are urged to check at once to see if their Company will be adequately represented at the time their men are scheduled to play. Ten points are deducted from any Company failing to field a team in the Inter-Company Point-participation Scheme so be sure that your Company will not be thus penalized. If you are not certain as to whether your Company has entered a full team, and if you have played any Softball at all then report at the field at the scheduled time—YOUR COMPANY MAY NEED YOU.

All games will be played on the Diamonds located on the Upper Field next to the Douglas Hall. Referees for tomorrow's fray are Horace Greaves and Keith McQuiga.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

As was announced earlier the Physical Training which the McGill Reserve Battalion is now taking is divided into three distinct phases: Formal Exercises, Agility Activities and Recreative Activities. Owing to the fact that all men have not yet obtained gym suits the Platoons have for the most part been concentrating on the Formal Phase of the Work. As a result almost every Platoon has already learned the First Table of Exercises as required by the Military Authorities. This Table and the five which are to follow are taken directly from the War Office publication "Physical Training Tables Without Apparatus."

The exercises in this Table, as in the others, are 12 in number—literally a Daily Dozen. Each exercise and each Table has been carefully thought out with a view to the general conditioning of the whole body (Continued on Page Four)

MEETING OF GLIDING CLUB TONIGHT AT 8

Things will be flying high tonight in the ballroom of the McGill Union when the first meeting of the McGill Gliding Club, formerly known as the McGill University Flying Club, will take place. This club is starting its thirteenth season, and from the way things look now, a banner year is expected.

The meeting has been called for 8.00 p.m., at which time an outline of the program for the coming year will be announced. Motion pictures will be shown of the club's activities, of the National Soaring Contest at Elmira, and of various other flying meets. For the benefit of new members of the club, the sport itself will be explained, as well as the fundamentals of gliding and its advantages today.

Anyone interested in gliding or in flying should drop down to the Union tonight at 8 p.m. and enlarge his bump of knowledge.

Rugby should come to the next practice, which will be held this afternoon at 5.00 o'clock on the upper field near Douglas Hall. This practice is important, as it will be probably the last before a possible game on Saturday against a city team. Everyone is invited, whether possessing past experience or not, to learn the particulars of the game under the able coaching of Harry Walpole. Particularly those who have attended the previous practices, are asked to be there.

Sailors Might Race at M.I.T.

Plans for Winter Activities to Be Discussed

The annual Fall Regatta of Massachusetts' Institute of Technology is to take place on October 26th, on the Charles River, in front of the Institute and not far from Harvard University.

Usually 23 Colleges participate, McGill included. This College has been represented in the past by John Schwab, Honorary Commodore of McGill Sailing Club, by Sam Mislav, ex-Commodore, and by Dick Stevenson. Two years ago McGill placed fifth, and tenth out of 23 Colleges at the end of last year's session.

Trip Uncertain

The Club's chances of going to M.I.T. this year are still uncertain, the difficulty of making the trip and the fact that there are no Canadian Intercollegiate sports, being the reason.

The Sailing Club has also to plan for the coming ice boat season. The Club's ice boat is at present at the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club. It will be checked over and put in running order for the season.

Last year's sailing conditions were not favourable but as soon as the weather turns a meeting will be called and plans outlined for both winter and summer seasons.

Varsity Champs

Last year's activities included the visit to M.I.T. and to the Canadian Intercollegiate Sailing Regatta, which was held at the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club with McGill as hosts. R.M.C. and Queens sent last minute notice that they would be unable to attend. Toronto edged out McGill and won the championship for the second consecutive year. However, there will be no Intercollegiate Sailing races in Canada during the war.

Further notices of the coming ice boat season will be published in the Daily.

FIRST HEAVY RUGBY DRILL HELD BY KERR

"Not good, not bad, but certainly a very great improvement," was the candid opinion of one eye-witness at last night's gridiron workout. At the time coach Doug Kerr was putting his rugby aspirants through their first heavy workout, and after a couple of hours of tackling practice he expressed his satisfaction.

The downhill tackling drill was the heaviest for a good many years as many players new to the game, had to be taught from scratch. It was taken slowly and easily, and with shoulder pads on, together with other heavy equipment, the half-backs looked particularly good.

One of the best turnouts to date promised better things to come, as nearly 65 students arrived on time for the drill. Nearly all had previously experienced a long period of physical training during the basic training hours, and hence many were tired. A and B companies were best represented, and some of last year's team were present, including Murray Telford and Bill Stronach.

The big news in the football world is expected today however, as Doug Kerr went into consultation last night over the new inter-company league schedule. Last night his plans were indefinite, but today should find things cleared up. After the large turnout today, matters looked brighter in the rugby world.

ped on the second service, the first fault does not stand, and the server is entitled to two new services.

RETURN OF SERVICE AND SUBSEQUENT PLAY.

6. (a) To make a good return the ball must be struck (and not pushed or scooped) on the volley or before it has touched the floor twice, and reach the front wall on the fly above the tell-tale and it may touch any wall or walls within the court before or after reaching the front wall, but it may not touch or go outside the boundary lines of the court, the ceiling, lights, galleries or anything not a part of the court itself (subject to paragraph 7 (d)).

(b) A service called a Fault may not be played, but the receiver may volley any service which has struck the front wall in accordance with Rule No. 5.

(c) Until the ball has been touched or has hit the floor twice it may be struck at any number of times.

LET.

7. A let is the stopping of play and the replaying of the point. A let shall be called:

(a) If the striker is inadvertently hindered by his opponent from reaching or striking the ball.

(b) If, owing to the position of his opponent, a player is unable to avoid being touched by the ball.

(c) If the player refrains from striking the ball owing to a reasonable fear of injuring his opponent.

(d) If the ball in play touches any article lying in the court.

(e) If a ball breaks during play.

(f) If an otherwise good return or service has been made but the ball goes out of court on its first bounce.

Provided always that, in respect of paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) herein, no let shall be allowed unless the striker could have made a good return if not hindered or unless in the act of striking and before hitting the ball he touches or is touched by his opponent or his racket.

KEEPING OUT OF OPPONENTS WAY.

Each player must get out of his opponent's way immediately after he has struck the ball and do all he can to:

(a) Give his opponent a fair view of the ball provided that interference purely with the opponent's vision in following the flight of the ball is not a let.

(b) Avoid interfering with his opponent in getting to and or striking at the ball.

(c) Leave his opponent as much as possible free to play the ball to any part of the front wall or to either side wall near the front wall.

BAULK.

9. If a player deliberately or intentionally or unnecessarily interferes with his opponent, it shall constitute a baulk. When a baulk is called, play shall stop and a point shall go to the player interfered with and the game shall continue as if that player had won a point. Unnecessary crowding shall constitute a baulk even though the opposing player is not actually prevented from reaching the ball or striking at it.

FAIR BALL TOUCHING PLAYER.

10. If a fair ball, after hitting the front wall and before being played again, touches either player, or anything he wears or carries (except his racket in the act of returning the ball) before touching the floor twice, the player so touched loses the point, subject to paragraph 7 (b) above.

FAIRLY STRUCK BALL HITTING PLAYER.

11. If the ball, after being struck from a good service or return and before reaching the front wall, hits the striker's opponent or his racket or anything he wears or carries, it shall be a let if the return would have hit the front wall fairly either directly or indirectly, but if the return would not have been fair, the striker shall lose the point. Play shall cease even though the ball goes up.

winning group will receive a small red H at the end of the season. Indoor classes will also continue, as has been done in previous years. A good crowd is expected to attend these functions.

Tennis: The tennis tourney is well under way and the deadline for the first round has been set for Thursday. This time limit is definite and will not be extended any further and all those who do not complete their games will be defaulted. If there is any difficulty in securing balls they may be found in the Athletic Office in R.V.C.

uries the house has electricity and running water.

Swimming: A new swimming club will be formed by the co-eds this year. All those interested are asked to sign the list posted in R.V.C. Watch this column for further notices.

Squash: The co-eds have secured the use of the Squash Courts in the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium and Armory on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. All co-eds who are interested in playing the game are requested to add their names to the list in R.V.C. as soon as possible. It is hoped that the tourney will get under way in the very near future, and everyone interested is urged to consult their Daily regularly for further news about squash.

Fencing: This year Margo Van Reet the Individual Champion of the R.V.C. Fencing club will again take over the helm of the Fencing Club. A list has already been posted in R.V.C. and so far quite a number of aspiring fencers have put up their names. It is hoped that the Annual Tournament will get under way some time next week with the usual large turnout that has been a feature of R.V.C. fencing in the past.

Golf: A new Golf Club is to be formed by the co-eds this year and all those interested are asked to sign the list posted in R.V.C. For further news read the Daily, because a tournament will be held in the near future if there are enough names.
